DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 1 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,334,620. This is a double patenting rejection.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not 1 paragraph of 150 words or less. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Takeda et al US Patent 6,002,351.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

With respect to the claim elements for claims 1-4 see figure 16 of Takada and columns 1 and 2. With respect to the elements of claim 15 see column 10 lines 11-22.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takada et al 6,002,351 as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Cheng et al US Patent 6,353,430 and Shimomura (Shim) US Patent 6,078,247. Takada discloses all of the instant application as disclosed above but lacks in specifically disclosing a boss and that the boss acts as a guide for a slider. Instead Takada discloses that other structure may be adopted as a means for elastically urging the lever always toward the neutral position 8:60-67. In analogous joystick device to Shim discloses a boss that acts as a guide with a restoring member and a z direction switch that is enabled when the operating member is pushed down. Shim does not disclose that the Z-axis switch is directly enabled by the operating member, but does suggest that a z axis switch is enabled. In an analogous invention to Cheng discloses a Z-axis switch which is directly enabled by the joy stick. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the above reference using the motivation in Takada that other structure may be adopted as a means for elastically urging the lever towards the neutral position since the teachings of Shim and Cheng discloses the advantageous boss, spring arrangement which advantageously incorporates a Z-axis switch.

Citation of Pertinent Prior Art

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
